MCAWW FOREMAN WORKSHOP: COMMON CHALLENGES IN THE INDUSTRY

Tuesday,
November 7, 2017
12:00 - 4:00 pm

A Discussion-Based Session
for UA Foremen

Seminar #509-17

Mechanical Contractors Association
WESTERN WASHINGTON

The 2017 MCAWW Foreman workshop is a discussion-based session centered around common challenges faced by UA Foremen in our local market. We recognize that Foremen are busy, so this workshop is designed to efficiently cover topics and consider solutions that are important to the participants.

WHO SHOULD TAKE THIS COURSE?

This workshop is designed for new and experienced UA Foremen, Field Leaders and Superintendents who are interested in exchanging solutions with others. Foremen of any size crew will benefit from the open, confidential discussion.

PROGRAM TOPICS

The topics for discussion will be picked by the participants (indicate on your registration form) and can include things such as:

- Impacts of technology on projects
- Availability of a skilled workforce
- Supervision challenges (motivation, teamwork)
- Best use and training of apprentices
- Communication challenges with the office

TUITION

Tuition for the class is $50. Lunch will be provided.

DATE, TIME & LOCATION

Tuesday, November 7, 2017

12:00 - 4:00 pm

MCAWW Training Center, 1100 Olive Way, Suite 1250, Seattle

FACILITATOR

Ed Kommers is Executive Director of MCA of Western Washington and former President of a large, local mechanical contracting firm.

He is the Past-Chair and continues to sit on the State Apprenticeship Council and facilitates many courses on labor issues and field management resources.

Registration Deadline: October 16, 2017
